Feifei

Hello, this is The English We Speak with me Feifei...

Rob

And me Rob. Hello!

Feifei

So Rob, what's that thing you've got there?

Rob

Oh this? It's a barrel [tapping on wooden barrel]...

Feifei

A barrel?! I see.

Rob

And do you want to know what's inside?

Feifei

Not really.

Rob

OK - well, if I just open the lid here you'll be able to hear [Opens lid and sounds of laughing] - funny, isn't it?!

Feifei

[not impressed] You have 'a barrel of laughs' - hmm, and that is supposed to be funny?

Rob

It's supposed to illustrate today's piece of authentic real English. It's hilarious, isn't it? And do you know what - the phrase 'a barrel of laughs' can be used to describe me - someone who is fun and always joking around.

Feifei

Really? Someone who is funny is 'a barrel of laughs'? But this doesn't describe you Rob - you're not funny.

Rob

Oh? What?! I think we'd better hear some examples of this phrase in action - and I'll show you how funny I really am...

Examples

I shall miss having John in the office. He was a such a barrel of laughs.

What a barrel of laughs that bus driver was. He made the long journey much more fun with his funny announcements!

Since I split up with my boyfriend, life hasn't been a barrel of laughs.

Feifei

So if someone is a 'barrel of laughs', they are fun - and an enjoyable person to be around.

Rob

Yeah, exactly - the phrase can also describe a thing such as TV show. But come on Feifei, you have to agree, this barrel full of laughs is so funny! Listen to this! [Opens lid again: laughter].

Feifei

Hmm, it's a cheap joke but it's not funny. I know what you can do if you want to make me laugh...

Rob

Oh yes - go on, what is it?

Feifei

Why don't you see if you can fit inside the barrel?

Rob

Oh, right, OK. Well, that sounds like a laugh. OK, then, here goes... [Sound of Rob getting in] ... Alright, I'm in.

Feifei

Wow Rob - you actually fit in the barrel! That's so funny!

Rob

Hey Feifei what are you doing?

Feifei

Making you into a real life 'barrel of laughs'

Rob

That's not funny.

Feifei

It's hilarious! See you later.
